Preface

The Statistical Yearbook of Norway 1996 contains summary information on developments in most areas of Norwegian society in recent years. The yearbook also contains main figures from other countries selected from international statistics. With the help of 546 tables and 57 figures, Statistics Norway presents a cross-section of these developments in a form most people can use.

In this year's edition, the 115th issue, relatively major changes have been made in the content of the tables compared to earlier; the tables have been simplified and old tables have been replaced with new, more up-to-date tables. These changes reflect the development of Statistics Norway's production of statistics, which in turn is a result of changes in the overall information needs of society. At the same time, changes have been made in the presentation form, partly through the use of colour and partly because this edition only contains English text in the tables and figures. A separate Norwegian edition of the yearbook is published.

The Statistical Yearbook is a useful reference work for home, school, and professional use. The index of tables and figures and alphabetic index at the back of the book make it easy to find information. The source references in the tables also make the yearbook a good starting point for those who are looking for more detailed statistics. The content of the Statistical Yearbook will be made available in electronic form on the Internet (see next page), from which it will also be possible to download tables in spreadsheet format.

The yearbook is edited by Mr Per Olav Løvbak assisted by Mr Jan Erik Kristiansen and Mr Paul André Eidsaae. In addition, a large number of other persons from within and outside Statistics Norway have made contributions to this edition of the Statistical Yearbook.

Other products from Statistics Norway

The Statistical Yearbook is only one of many products available from Statistics Norway. Statistics and analyses are distributed through many channels and in many ways. Readers of the Statistical Yearbook will find it useful to know where they can find more information on the various subjects and interest areas.

The Weekly Bulletin of Statistics is Statistics Norway's main external publication and all new statistics are presented here first and published simultaneously on the Internet. The Weekly Bulletin of Statistics is published (also on Internet) every Thursday and contains fresh tables and articles in Norwegian (English summary).

Statistics Norway otherwise presents its results in various statistical and analytical publications and in electronic form, including on the Internet. The address is: <http://www.ssb.no>. Tables and figures from the Statistical Yearbook 1996 will also be published here.

The series Official Statistics of Norway (NOS), of which the Statistical Yearbook is part, comprises c. 80 publications annually, including the Monthly Bulletin of Statistics, Historical Statistics, Regional Statistics and a number of single topic publications covering most subject areas. Publications in this series are mainly statistical publications with information on data sources, collection and processing methods, statistical standards, etc. Current statistics are also presented in various theme publications such as Banking and Credit Statistics, Monthly Bulletin of External Trade, Building Statistics (quarterly) and Building Info.

More detailed analyses are published, inter alia, in Economic Analyses and "Samfunnsspeilet", which are issued nine and four times a year, respectively. The first issue of Economic Analyses contains Statistics Norway's Economic Survey for the previous year.

Social and Economic Studies is a series for distributing research results and is primarily aimed at other research institutions. Statistical Analyses publishes statistics and analyses aimed at a wider circle of readers.

Scientific publishing of a more preliminary nature is presented in Discussion Papers. In addition, the institute issues a number of Reports on the various areas of statistics or research and analyses projects at Statistics Norway. The Notes and Documents series are used for publications of a more internal nature and for publications with a limited circulation.

A CD-ROM containing statistics from all the Nordic countries, Statistic Across Borders, is issued every year.

Statistics can also be ordered on discette, on-line or in hard copy form.

Geographical survey

The Kingdom of Norway consists of the mainland, the archipelago of Svalbard and the island Jan Mayen.

The mainland consists of continental Norway and every island, islet and rock within the Norwegian baseline.

Svalbard consists of Bjørnøya, Spitsbergen, Nordaustlandet, Barentsøya, Edgeøya, Kong Karls land, Hopen, Prins Karls Forland and every island, islet and rock situated between 10° and 35°E. longitude and between 74° and 81°N. latitude. By an international treaty (the Svalbard treaty), signed on 9 February 1920, Norway's sovereignty over the archipelago was recognised. On 14 August 1925 the archipelago was officially incorporated into the Kingdom of Norway.

Jan Mayen is an island situated in the northern Atlantic. On 8 May 1929 it was placed under Norwegian sovereignty, and became by law of 27 February 1930 a part of the Kingdom of Norway.

The Antarctic islands Bouvet Island, Peter I's Island and Queen Maud's land (20°W. and 45°E.) on the Antarctic continent are dependencies. They were placed under Norwegian sovereignty by law of 27 February 1930, parliamentary resolution of 23 April 1931 and royal announcement of 14 January 1939, respectively. The dependencies are not part of the Kingdom of Norway.

STATENS KARTVERK

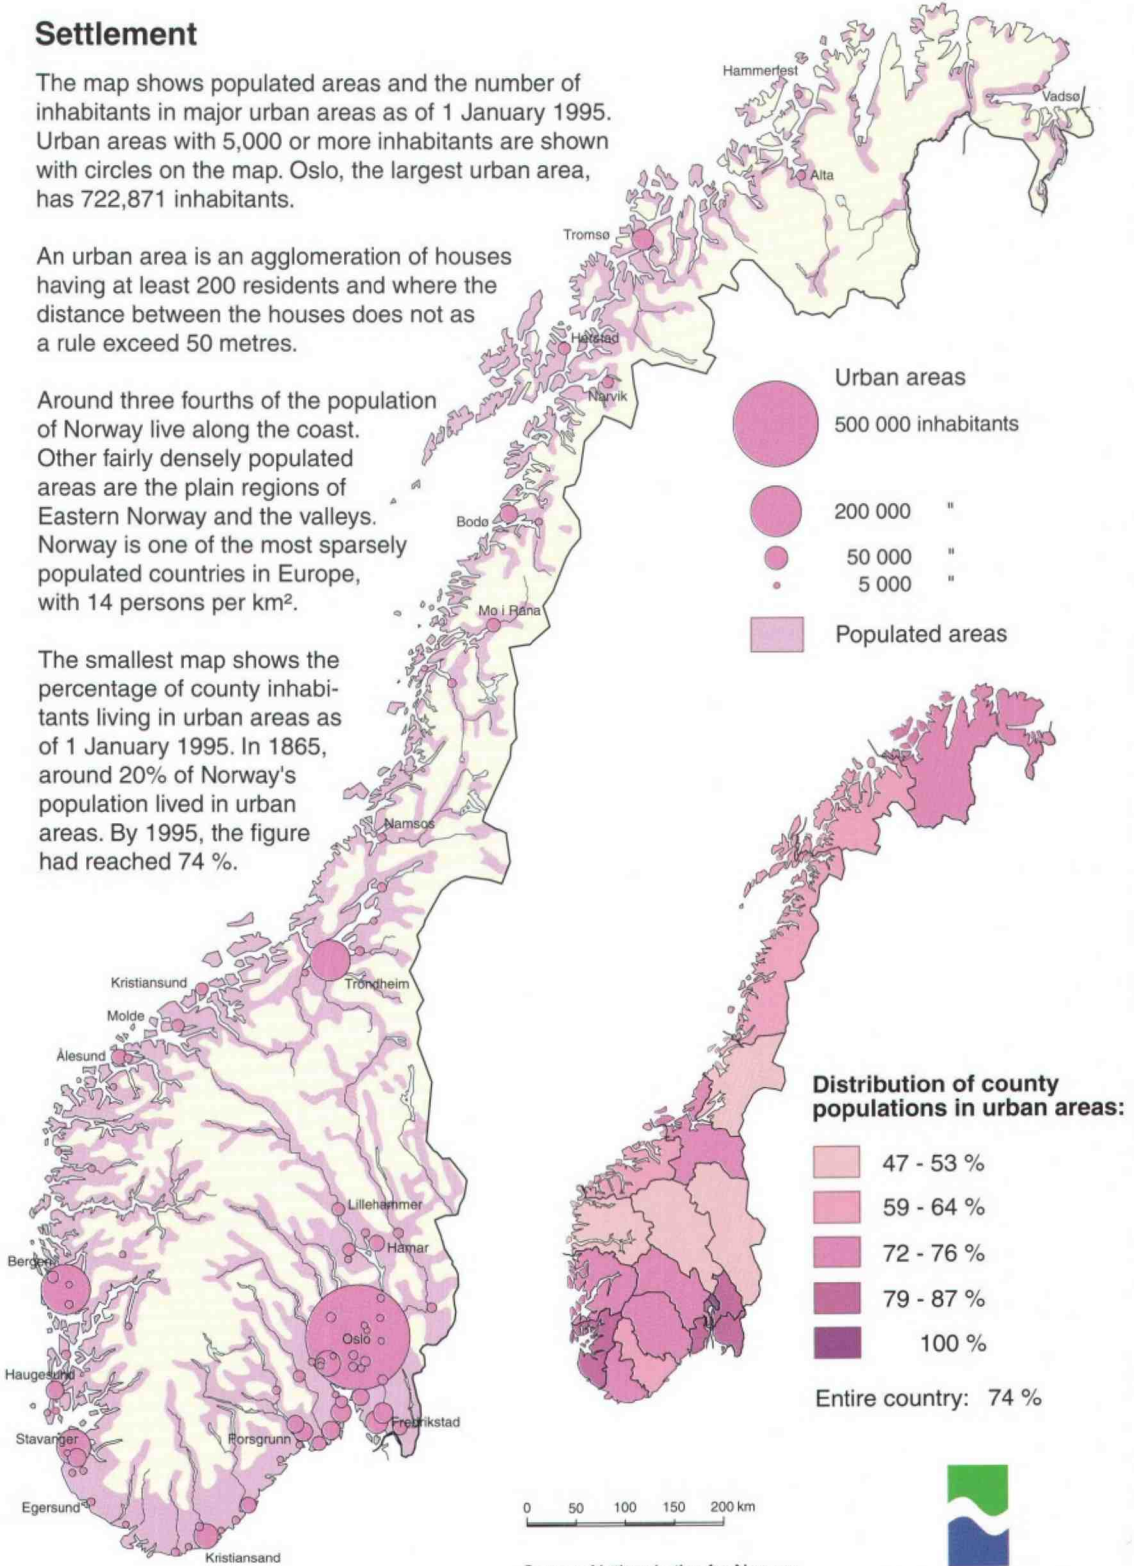

Settlement

The map shows populated areas and the number of inhabitants in major urban areas as of 1 January 1995. Urban areas with 5,000 or more inhabitants are shown with circles on the map. Oslo, the largest urban area, has 722,871 inhabitants.

An urban area is an agglomeration of houses having at least 200 residents and where the distance between the houses does not as a rule exceed 50 metres.

Around three fourths of the population of Norway live along the coast. Other fairly densely populated areas are the plain regions of Eastern Norway and the valleys. Norway is one of the most sparsely populated countries in Europe, with 14 persons per km².

The smallest map shows the percentage of county inhabitants living in urban areas as of 1 January 1995. In 1865, around 20% of Norway's population lived in urban areas. By 1995, the figure had reached 74 %.

Forest and agricultural areas

Forests cover about one third of the country. In Southern Norway the timberline lies at approx. 1,000 metres above sea level. The height of the timberline declines towards the west and the north. In many places in Western Norway the timberline reaches no higher than 300 metres above sea level, while in the far north it disappears, because the timberline is at sea level.

Spruce and pine dominate the coniferous forest areas. Birch trees also grow in large stands in mountainous areas between the conifers and high moors and in low-lying areas in Western Norway and in Northern Norway. Valuable deciduous woods are found in areas where the climate is especially favourable. The forestry picture is changing in many places through, for example, the reversion of former grazing areas into forest and reforestation of deciduous woods.

Forestry is carried out in areas with productive forests, which cover approx. 22% of the land area. Agricultural areas lie in the most climatically favourable parts of the lowlands, and account for between 3 and 4% of the land area.

Grain and fruit growing require hotter temperatures while grass and potatoes are less demanding, and are therefore cultivated farther north and at higher elevations than grain.

Annual precipitation

The term annual precipitation means normal annual precipitation, which is the average of the annual precipitation values for the period 1960-1990. Precipitation in a single year can vary substantially from the normal annual precipitation. A precipitation height of 1 mm means that 1 litre of water has fallen on 1 m².

Certain areas in Western Norway are among the wettest regions in Europe. The reason for this is that moist masses of air moving in from the west are forced upwards by the high coastal mountains, resulting in precipitation. The interior of Eastern Norway and the Finnmark Plateau are sheltered from the wind directions causing high precipitation in Western Norway and along the coast farther north to Lofoten.

In Southern Norway, documented precipitation varies from 278 mm at Skjåk in Gudbrandsdalen to 3,575 mm at Brekke in Sogn. In Northern Norway, annual precipitation varies from 282 mm in Dividalen in Troms to 2,935 mm at Brønnøysund. The highest annual precipitation values, for example on glaciers, are calculated on the basis of snow amounts.

Annual temperature

Annual temperature (in °C) is used here to denote normal annual temperature, i.e. the average of all annual temperatures recorded in the period 1961-1990.

The location of the country on the east side of a large and relatively warm ocean area with predominately western winds, yields a much warmer climate than Norway's northern latitudes would indicate. The annual temperature is therefore the highest along the coast, which has a marine climate with mild winters and comparatively cool summers. The lower annual temperature in Eastern Norway, which has an inland climate with warm summers and cold winters, is caused by the low monthly temperatures in the winter.

The warmest area on an annual basis is the coastal zone from Lista to Stad, while the coolest area in lower-lying areas is the Finnmark Plateau. The annual temperature decreases from south to north, from the coast towards the interior and with increasing elevation.

The meteorological stations in Bergen and Skudeneshavn on Karmøy island have the highest annual temperature, with +7.7°C. The Sihččajávri station on the Finnmark Plateau has the lowest annual temperature in lower-lying areas, with -3.1°C.

Communications

The map shows roads, airports and the route of the Coastal Express service. A number of major cities and urban areas are also marked.

¹The table does not include nature relics (86 geological+about 190 trees) and flora and fauna protections. ²Some areas are located in more than one country, thus the sum of the number in the countries is higher than the total number. ³Including fresh-water lakes. In some cases sea area is included. ⁴Flora and fauna protection area (biotope protections). ⁵Protected according to the Svalbard law § 4. These areas are not included in the sum figures for protected areas.

¹This is the Norwegian share: 60.82 per cent. ²The production from Gyda and Gyda South is stated together. Total produced amount from these two fields is deducted from Gyda's residual reserves. ³Sales from Sleipner East and Loke are regulated in common. Total produced amount from these two fields is deducted from Sleipner East's residual reserves. ⁴This is the Norwegian share: 22.2 per cent. ⁵This is the Norwegian share: 85.47 per cent. ⁶Abandoned fields are not included.

¹Agglomerations having at least 200 inhabitants and where the distance between the houses as a rule does not exceed 50 metres. Before 1845 cities ("kjøpsteder" and "ladesteder") are considered as densely populated areas, for 1845-1950 also agglomerations outside cities.

²Not included Svalbard and Jan Mayen. ³The population figure is probably about 15 000 too low. ⁴Figures from new preparation of the census. ⁵Not included Holt-Dypvåg, 4 583 persons. ⁶The population figure is probably about 20 000 too low. ⁷Present population. ⁸Including 15 952 persons with no information on densely/sparsely populated areas in 1980 and 25 005 persons in 1990.

¹Urban settlement: An agglomeration having at least 200 residents and where the distance between houses as a rule does not exceed 50 metres. An urban settlement is delimited independent of administrative boundaries. ²In municipalities where more than 50 per cent of the population live in urban settlements, persons with no registration on urban/rural residence have been considered as inhabitants of the largest urban settlement within the municipality. ³With assignment of codes as in the 1970 census, the population figures of the major urban settlements would be: Oslo 649 031, Bergen 181 919, Trondheim 128 159 and Stavanger 91 129. ⁴The population figure is probably about 4 000 too low.

¹There are no central negotiated prices for saw logs. The prices for Glommen are average prices, because they practice "floating" prices. Common saw logs of 4.9 m length and 20 cm top diameter. ²For saw logs the figures refer to the second half of the working year (spring).

³In addition an extra support of NOK 20 to NOK 27 per m³ logged roundwood is granted by the central government.

¹The statistics cover general trade. Imports directly to the Norwegian continental shelf not cleared by the customs are excluded. The exports include crude oil shipped directly from the Norwegian continental shelf, and natural gas from the Norwegian continental shelf. ²Excluding aircraft, ships and floating structures. ³Refunds of duty to the ship building industry are not deducted. In 1989-1991 these amounted to 35, 15 and 6 million kroner. In 1992-1995 there was no refund of duty.

¹The excise on LOTTO games was discontinued in 1993. From 1993 2/3 of the profits of the state lottery are included in the central government's fiscal account. The rest is paid out directly from the state lottery to sporting and recreational affairs.²Until 1 July 1994 the excise on radio and TV sets was paid directly to the Norwegian Broadcasting Corporation.

¹Capital cities are listed first, then, alphabetically, some of the largest cities in the country. Cities that don't have suburbs are usually listed with the population in the administrative areas. The population figures for a large number of cities in less developed countries are uncertain. ²De jure population. ³Includes Oslo, Asker, Bærum, Lørenskog, Nesodden, Nittedal, Oppegård, Rælingen, Skedsmo and Ski. ⁴The capital city region including Espoo and Vantaa. ⁵The administrative units may cover more than city areas. ⁶Excluding foreign military personnel. Including military personnel outside the area. ⁷Excluding alien military forces. ⁸Former Sverdlovsk. ⁹Greater London. ¹⁰County districts. ¹¹Pretoria is the administrative unit, Cape Town is the legislative capital city. ¹²The "Standard metropolitan statistical area" is used for cities with suburbs. ¹³Including East-Jerusalem. ¹⁴Excluding countryside population. The administrative areas of chinese cities usually include large countryside areas. The majority of the population may be living in such areas. ¹⁵The greek part. ¹⁶The turkish part. ¹⁷Statistical district.
