

Whose Job Is It?

Responsibility	Scrum Master	Product Owner	Developers
Estimates the size of items on the Product Backlog			X
Maximize the value of the product		X
Monitor progress towards Product Goal		X
Promote and support Scrum and help the Scrum team follows Scrum practices	X
Monitor sprint progress towards Sprint Goal			X
Ordering the items in the Product Backlog		X
Ensures impediments are removed	X
Manages the budget and return on investment of the product		X
Assigns tasks to Developers			(X) when you pull a task
Inspects the increment from the sprint		X
Produce high-quality product increment every sprint			X
Communicates status of the release to stakeholders		X
Updates the Sprint Burndown chart			X
Coach the Scrum team and the organization on Scrum	X
Decides how much work to accept into a sprint			X
Ensures each Product Backlog Item meets the Definition of Done			X

Responsibility	Scrum Master	Product Owner	Developers
Works to create transparency using the Scrum artifacts	X
Managing the product backlog		X
Act as a change agent	X
Develop and explicitly communicating the Product Goal		X
Creating a plan for the Sprint (Sprint Backlog)			X
Facilitate Scrum events when asked	X
Clearly express product backlog items		X
Demonstrate the product increment at the end of every Sprint			X
Ensure Product Backlog is visible, transparent, clear to all and shows what to work on next		X
Inspect and adapt for continuous improvement	X	X	X
Facilitate dialogue between Development Team and Product Owner	X
Ensure they are working at a sustainable pace			X
Ensure the Development Team understands items in the Product Backlog to the level needed		X	